MORTUARY.

From the Nashville Union and American of Friday we extract the following:

Death of Major Granville A. Pillow.

In our funeral announcements this morning will be found the death of Maj. Granville A. Pillow, a brother of Gen. Gideon J. Pillow, of Maury county. Maj. P. lived long, but did not outlive his usefulness. A man whose character was reproachless through life, whose active charity and virtuous example was conspicuous and carried to many homes outside of his own, consolation and comfort cannot die without distressing the community to which he was endeared, as the immediate household who witness and mourn his departure. Maj. P. met death with the calmness of a Christian as he was, and crossed "the river" like the voyager who has never mistaken his course, and always makes the other shore safely and happily.

Death of Hon. Edwin A. Keeble.

This distinguished citizen, who has been ill for several weeks, died at his residence in Murfreesboro, on Thursday night.

The announcement will carry regret throughout the borders of the State in which he was so well known and highly appreciated for his ability, uprightness and all the characteristics of the highest style of a gentleman. For many years he has held high rank among the first lawyers in the State. He was not ambitious of public office, though on two occasions he was elected—once to the State House of Representatives, in 1861, over which he presided as Speaker, and subsequently, as a Representative of the Fifth District in the Congress at Richmond.

He was quite or nearly sixty years of age, and leaves a large family in bereavement.

Death of Wm. O. Harris.

Information reached this city last evening of the death of Wm. O. Harris, formerly of this city. He died at his residence in Sumner county yesterday, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Harris was for a period of years well and favorably known as one of the publishers of the Republican Banner, and during the campaign of 1844 made a reputation as the author of occasional criticisms under the head of "Spirit of the Press." Educated as he was to commercial life, he was successful in all his business pursuits, and when after years of the toil incident to newspaper life, in which his energy was conspicuous, he retired, there were many expressions of regret at the loss of one who had been so kind in all his relations. Knowing him as we did, we can bear testimony to his many virtues, and announce his death with feelings of sincere regret. May the green sod rest lightly on his grave.

Death of W. H. C. King, Esq.

We record with regret the death of our co-laborer in the journalistic profession, Mr. W. H. C. King, head of the Times newspaper of this city. This event took place at Pass Christian, on Thursday last, after a long and painful illness, which, we are informed, he bore with much patience. The disease by which he was removed—a cancerous affection—although slow in its workings, is one of the most certainly fatal affections by which mankind is afflicted, and medical science has been unable to discover a cure for it. Mr. King was a native of Pennsylvania, and was about forty-five years of age. He was a printer by trade, having been at different times connected with the newspaper offices here as a journeyman, but his management of the Times has proved that he possessed abilities beyond the mere mechanical labor of the profession. That paper was established by him and others in 1864, and we may say that its success has been due in great part to an energy and a tact which were the distinguishing features of his character as a man of business. He leaves the Times in a flourishing condition, exercising a large influence in this community, and doing its full share of a most important work in this crisis of the country's history. As a private individual, Mr. King was noted for his benevolence and for his encouragement to all worthy enterprises. He leaves a wife and children, to whom we offer our sincere sympathies in their heavy sorrow.—N. O. Bee.

"A Fair Deal" or a Free Fight.

The Hon. George E. Pugh is one of the most conservative statesmen in the country. His private character is without a blemish; his public record the most virulent Radical cannot impeach. In a recent speech this distinguished gentleman said:

After they (the Radicals) have committed every outrage possible, they say, let us have peace. [Applause.]

When you have restored the white man and black man to their proper conditions in the Southern States, let the white men vote to give the negro the right of suffrage, if they desire to do it, but don't cram it down their throats in this illegal and violent manner; when there is a fair deal of the cards all around the board, then let every man bet as he thinks best [applause]; and there cannot be any peace until that time.

Now I am not a war man; I am at an age when I could not be conscripted into the militia. Therefore, I am not anxious for any war; but I tell you this, gentlemen, that there shall be no peace until these outrages are all set aside, and it shall make no difference whether it is in this election or in any other election. If they want me to go further, as to myself, I will say that these outrages are so great, their offense is so rank and stinks to heaven, if I could not find means of beating them peaceably, I would beat them in any manner possible. [Great applause.] But no such thing is necessary.

SOUTHERN STATES.

The Negro Strength Compared with White.

The following table of the voting population of the ten unreconstructed States is prepared from the United States census of 1860. It shows the number of white and colored voters as they would stand under a general amnesty law:

VIRGINIA.

			Majorities.
States.	Whites.	Blacks.	Whites.	Blacks.
Virgina	166,563	119,051	47 512	—
N. Carolina	143 295	74,911	68,384	—
S. Carlina	58,810	85,687	—	18,377
Georgia	133,208	96,498	36,710	—
Alabama	118,570	98,589	20 031	—
Florida	18,920	14,121	4,799	—
Louisiana	99,765	96,411	3 354	—
Mississippi	84,209	98,870	—	14,661
Arkansas	74,045	24,105	49,940	—
Texas	109 625	38,152	71,473	—
Totals	1,016,510	747,345	302,203	33,038

White majority, 269,165.

Since the close of the war a census has been taken of the population of Mississippi, which shows a decrease of 10,439 whites and a decrease of 66,146 blacks. If these figures are correct the number of males in the State would stand about thus: 82,022 whites, and 85,641 blacks. These figures would give to the whites majorities in the First, Second, Third and Fifth Congressional districts.

Radical Robbery—What the Pacific Railroad Cost the People.

As nearly as I can judge, the Union Pacific Railroad has level valleys for three-fourths of the way to Salt Lake; and the remaining fourth presents no difficulties of construction that can be ranked as first-class.

Let us see what the company gets in hard cash for building the 1175 miles between Omaha and Salt Lake:

From Omaha to Cheyenne, 516 miles along Platte Valley, level all the way, at the rate of $16,000 per mile	$8,256,000
For 150 miles west of Cheyenne, humorously called the "mountain section," two-thirds of it being level, at the rate of $48,000 per mile	7,200,000
For the remaining 509 miles, to Salt Lake City, two-thirds of which is level, and the rest not very difficult, at the rate of $32,000 per mile	16,288,000
Total from Government	$31,744,000
Now, as Government allows the company to sell their first mortgage bonds to a corresponding extent, which they are readily doing, at par, we must double the above, giving	$63,488,000

So by the time the Union Pacific Railroad gets through to Salt Lake, it will have received over $63,000,000 in cash for its work, to say nothing of alternate sections of land, twenty miles square, along the entire route.

What is the road costing? I made the journey hither in company with a well-known railroad superintendent, from whom I obtained the following estimate:

1,175 miles of iron, spikes and chairs, at $11,000 a mile	$12,925,000
1,175 miles of ties, at $2,000 a mile	2,350,000
1,175 miles of grading, at $4,000 a mile	4,700,000
For bridging and track-laying	4,350,000
Building shops, depots, tanks, round-houses, etc	3,000,000
Equipment of road with engines and cars	3,000,000
Total cost of building and equipping the road from Omaha to Salt Lake 1,175 miles	$30,325,000
Profit, in cash, from building the road, not counting the grant of land	$33,163,000

—The Picayune has been elected City Printer of Montgomery.

—The Chambers Tribune of the 15th ult., says not more than half a crop of corn will be made in that county, and that the cotton crop is promising, but the weed is small.

—A horse thief named Maxwell was pursued from Georgia and captured last week near Elyton. Attempting to escape from his captors, he was shot and instantly killed.

—Lenox Calhoun, negro, of Newbern, is doing good work. A few days ago he organized a colored Seymour and Blair Club, of fifty-two members, at Concord Church, in this county. Since then he has been at work in Hale county.

—The Greensboro Beacon says: We are hearing of more sickness now than we have heard of during the summer. The principal disease seems to be chills and fever, and nearly every other man we meet about town has "just had a chill." We had a couple of the "pesky" things this week, and feel anything but comfortable from the effects.

—A clerk in a store at Newbern, some nights ago hearing some suspicious talk among negroes outside, went out to reconnoitre, when he was attacked by one of them with a club, and retreated. The negroes, who are identified, evidently intended to murder him and plunder the store.

—For the past week, says the Marion Eagle of the 19th, we have had some beautiful weather for fodder pulling, etc. Cotton is doing very well at present, with the exception of the river lands, where the caterpillar is reported as doing some harm. From all accounts, we suppose there has been corn enough made in the county to supply the wants of the people.

—A youth by the name of Tillman, living at Perote, Bullock county, on the 18th ult., returning home from hunting, placed his gun in the yard against a tree. Mrs. Tillman, who was sitting in the porch of the house with a little infant in her arms, called to her little boy to bring the gun in. The little fellow, in attempting to let the hammer of the gun down, let the gun fall, which wounded the mother and child seriously. The child cannot live and the mother is in a dangerous condition.

—The Livingston Journal says of weather and crops: We have no encouraging news to give respecting either this week. While the weather has been favorable to the growth of cotton, it has also been such as the worm delights in, and the indications are that it will greatly assist that pest in its ravages. As yet the injury done by the worm is not very serious, but great apprehension is felt respecting the next crop, or generation, which will appear in from ten days to two weeks.

MISSISSIPPI.

—Mr. Turner Wesson, of Pontotoc county, was fatally injured a short time since by being caught in the machinery of a thrasher.

—Milligan, of the Corinth News, proposes disposing of one-third interest in his office, giving the purchaser "a great bargain."

—We find the following, signed by R W. Crump, Secretary, in the Panola Star of Saturday: Owing to the sickness prevailing on the north side of the river, the barbecue and ratification meeting at Sardis is indefinitely postponed.

—Mr. Paxton, near Natchez, has cultivated this season, forty acres of castor beans. The product is 1000 to 1200 bushels at $2 50 per bushel, and the work was done by himself, with the assistance of one negro man, cultivating also fifteen acres in corn and six in cotton.

—A negro boy connected with recent robberies at Vicksburg, was arrested by a colored man the other day and brought to town, but before he could be turned over to an officer, a riotous gang of negroes crowded around him and enabled him to escape.

—The boll worm is fast destroying the cotton crop in several parts of the county. But for this the prospect is better for a good yield than at any time since the war, as it is the crop will be small. Corn, that was not too far gone when the season set in, is good. Farmers will make plenty, if not some to spare, to do them another year. The potatoe crop is thought by some to be good.

Candid.

A writer in the Tribune reports a conversation he held with Thad. Stevens a short time before his death. On speaking to him of his Congressional career, Mr. Stevens said: "I have achieved nothing in Congress. Until the war began I was a plodder without influence, and since it began I have been so radical that I had no control over anybody." "No," he added, after a pause of a moment or two, "I'm not over proud of my Congressional career."

NEWS ITEMS.

—Gen. Harney once told Grant he ought to be a cooper, because he could go to bed every night a barrel of whisky and wake up every morning a whisky barrel.

—Dr. Morgan, of Evansville, Ind., an influential citizen, and a Republican, who helped to organize that party, has announced that he can go no further in that direction, but that he shall support Seymour and Blair.

—O'Neil, a "loil" member of the Georgia House of Representatives, has been arrested at the instance of Jesse Harper, a negro, on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

—In making some improvements recently in Annapolis, Maryland, it became necessary to remove a large tree, which disclosed the fact that it had grown directly upon the top of a well. Upon the removal of the roots, the well was found covered over carefully and well bricked. The oldest inhabitants and the best antiquarian researches had, at the latest accounts, been able to revive no recollection of the ancient and forgotten establishment.

—The New York Times doubts the statement of Dexter's unprecedented speed, and says that the time from stand to stand as kept by two getlemen present was 2:18½. The Times maintains that if he made 2:14 it must have been for three quarters of a mile, and not the entire course. It also disbelieves in the published report that he trotted a quarter of a mile in thirty seconds.

—It has been calculated that it would require 5208 tons of gold to pay the principal of the Government bonds in coin.

—The Central Pacific Railroad is finished two hundred and sixty-eight miles east of the Sacramento river. Six miles of the track were laid on August 19th. The company promise to lay seven miles a day, if necessary to outstrip the Union Pacific and reach Salt Lake first.

—The California Pacific Railroad Company began running trains on Thursday to Davisville, connecting there with stages for Sacramento. The morning papers of the latter place are now delivered at San Francisco on the forenoon of the same day on which they are published.

—The half-breeds of the Red river settlement are reported to be in great destitution, in consequence of the disappearance of buffalo from their vicinity, and the destruction of their crops by grasshoppers. Their hunting parties have recently returned from the plains empty handed, and report that the buffalo had all crossed the Missouri river. As they have depended heretofore on dried buffalo meat and "pemican" for their winter supplies, it is thought there will be great suffering among them this winter. Many of them have already been forced to sell their hunting ponies, or "buffalo runners," to obtain the necessaries of life.

—The fall trade is beginning to open, in New York, principally among dry goods men. Heavy orders are reported from the West and South.

—The Herald's Rio Janario correspondent says: Gen. Webb received instructions to demand his passports if the steamer Wasp was not permitted to ascend the river to Ascencion.

—A Montreal shoemaker cut off the ears of his apprentice. The boy had previously cut out the shoemaker's in his wife's affections.

—Election takes place in Maine on September 14th. At the State elections of the last four years the total votes and the Republican majorities have been as follows:

Years.	Total Vote.	Rep. Maj.
1864	111,909	19,180
1865	86 017	22 821
1866	111,480	27,258
1867	103,754	11,342

Periodic Harvest Failures.

Prepared for the Association of Science by Geo. A. Leakin, of Baltimore.]

The periodic law, supposed peculiar to the planetary system or to the intermitting of disease, has been found much more extensive, and gives reason to believe that on further investigation it may be as comprehensive as gravitation itself. During some years I have had opportunities of verifying its various phases, and have been led to suspect its universality.

This principle, deduced from a number of facts, threw increased light on the facts themselves; just as the ascending dew on the mountain descends to clarify the very lake whence it emenated (a cycle for ages unknown), or as the law of gravitation, applied to the planets, revealed a more exact system of longitude, thus giving increased security to commerce.

The Paris Constitutionnel gave a list of periods of scarcity in France for three hundred years, deducing therefrom a septennial recurrence, and concluding thus: "It is plainly owing to some law of nature, yet undiscovered, that these unfruitful seasons seem at comparatively regular periods."

This undiscovered law was the very one then engaging my attention, and I soon found similar facts, viz: four drouths in Montgomery county, Md., at intervals of sixteen years; in parts of Illinois a similar recurrence in seven years; in Delaware a change in the peach crop in twenty years, and in Texas a general expectation of abundance among the early settlers every twenty years.

A farmer in San Joaquin Valley writes to the Farmers' Club of New York, "that in that region there are periodical seasons of drouth, not of months, but of years; and his experience of California goes to show that the seasons of fertility and sterility come by periods of years.

I further learned that there was a septennial failure in the East India cotton crop, and that our own Sea Island cotton was septennially devastated by the caterpiller, a fact paralleled by our seventeen-year locusts. I might further suggest that the septennial fallow of the Jewish law may have been this periodicity written ages previously on the ground itself.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington published these facts, calling the attention of American farmers to seasons remarkable for droughts or rain, scanty or abundant harvests, and adding that if such law be ascertained, "a valuable saving of time, labor and crops would result to the farmers and the nation."

In Italy and England, societies have been formed for the partial insurance of crops, thus showing that "scientific researches will lead to valuable results not anticipated, and that in time dull meteorological tables will not only reflect the epast, but foreshadow the future, and enable us, by their monitions, to avail ourselves of the benignity or guard against the ravage of the coming day."

Radicals Read.

From the Chicago Times, 25th.]

The white men of the Southern States have said to the negroes that, if they should vote for the carpet-baggers in the coming elections they must look to the carpet-baggers for employment. In other words, that a difference in political opinions, and an expression of it at the ballot-box, would be held as a good reason for refusing to give them work by their old masters.

For this the planters have been severely denounced by the Jacobin press. Such tactics to control the votes of working-men cannot be justified in an ordinary state of society. It is a matter for debate whether the crimes of the reconstruction infamy will justify them. However this may be, there are a few questions bearing on this point which are respectfully submitted to the black-and-tan party.

Did Edwin M. Stanton, when Secretary of War, furnish transportation to wounded Republican soldiers to return home and vote, and did he refuse transportation to wounded Democratic soldiers unless they would pledge themselves to vote the Republican ticket? Were the operatives in New England mills, having contracts with the government, threatened by government agents with discharge unless they should vote the Republican ticket? Did Jacobin newspapers at that time protest against such proscription and cruelty?

Registration in Missouri.

By special dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial of date August 27th, we learn that in St. Louis the registration business is progressing satisfactorily. It is generally conceded that if the registration list for the city reaches 30,000, the vote at the November election will be in favor of the Democracy, as the Republican vote of the city will not be far in excess of 13,000. A large number have been naturalized recently, and these will, mainly, go for Seymour and Blair.

The registrars have rejected several old citizens; one of them, Judge Moody, an intimate personal friend of Gen. Grant, with whom the General formerly staid during his visits. Judge Moody has addressed a letter to Gen. Grant on the subject, wherein he expresses a profound contempt for the puritanical villains who are leading him astray.

The Superintendent of Registration has removed two Radical registrars in Jackson county, for incompetency, and appointed J. Dowd and Hon. M. J. Payne in their stead. Both the latter are Democrats. Payne was temporary President of the late Democratic State Convention.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 1, 1868.

For President..........HORATIO SEYMOUR.
For Vice President......FRANK P. BLAIR.

TENNESSEE.
EIGHTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.
For Congress..........JOHN W. LEFTWICH.
For Elector..........W. W. VAUGHAN.

LETTER FROM GEN. PIKE.

A special feature in our issue to-morrow morning, will be a letter from Gen. PIKE, addressed to the readers of the APPEAL, in which he takes occasion to explain, at length, his views touching the present crisis in our political affairs. As an independent, outspoken expression of opinion from one of the first thinkers and best writers on constitutional and political questions, it will command attention.

THE MILITIA BILL.

The leading men of Nashville, at large meetings of the people, held in that city on Thursday and Saturday evening of last week, have put themselves upon the record in opposition to the odious and infamous Militia Bill, and the generally ruinous financial policy of the State. It has been suggested to us by a prominent gentleman of our city that some expression of opinion from our citizens on the same questions would be appropriate at this time. Agreeing heartily with him, we suggest that a public meeting of the citizens of Memphis, opposed to the disgraceful and ruinous course of our Legislature, be called by the county Executive Committee, to be held on Thursday evening next, at the Greenlaw Opera House, or some other place equally accessible and appropriate. In default of the County Committee, should they not move quickly enough, perhaps Mr. M. D. L. Stewart, of the State Executive Committee, will make the call. We leave the suggestion with the parties referred to.

MONEY WANTED.

It is not at all creditable to the people of Memphis of the Democratic persuasion that the Central Democratic Club has been in existence ever since the first week in July and has not yet been able to pay off the indebtedness that has accumulated in its name and originated in behalf of the Democratic cause.

Without money (the sinews of all wars—political as well as military) it is impossible for us to continue long in the healthy condition necessary to a successful contest with a Radicalism so infamous that it does not stop short of filching from the public crib to defray the expenses of the efforts it makes to perpetuate over us its infamies and robberies. We are cognizant of the hardness of the times, none more so, but in a life and death struggle like that upon us now we must not fail, as in war times, to risk even to the last cent, rather than that Grant and Colfax shall become our "lords and masters." The Central Club has done good work, and is entitled to the help and support it asks at the hands of the citizens—most of them (as in times past) too inert in political matters and too exclusively engaged in speculations upon the "fall prospects" to rest their minds for a moment upon matters in which we know their hearts are truly and loyally interested.

If gentlemen will but stop for one moment and reflect that property and capital are particularly concerned in the result of the Presidential contest—that failing to elect Seymour and Blair we are "booked" for a long night of more than Egyptian darkness, we are sure that the committee appointed by the Club to solicit subscriptions will be spared any farther trouble and that prominent business men will, of their own volition, wait upon Major J. J. Murphy, Treasurer, with their generous subscriptions.

Come, gentlemen of the Democracy, this is your fight. Subscribe, and liberally, for the cause of liberty, of truth, and of justice.

Lawyers leave their business to speak, and Editors give up their columns and write, merchants and mechanics cannot do less than give their mite. We must unite all our forces for victory.

THE MILITARY BILL—NOTHING TO FEAR.

The public mind has been greatly excited over the reckless and criminal projects of the Radical Legislature of Tennessee to compromise the peace of the State by the organization of a partizan military force, with the view of overawing the Democratic party. Indeed so far had apprehension of intestine war affected the public, that many timid persons in our midst had proposed, in view of the threatening aspect of affairs to the Democrats to withdraw from the canvass, and relinquish the contest for the right. We are happy in being able to reassure the despondent, and encourage the cowardly on this point. We are satisfied the Military Bill, which is now pending before the Legislature, is so utterly violative of the Federal and State Constitutions, as to be incapable of execution, so long as ANDREW JOHNSON, the PATRIOT PRESIDENT, remains in the White House.

The Constitution of the United States provides—Sec. 10, Article I—that "No "State shall, without the consent of "Congress, keep troops or ships of war "unless actually invaded, or in such "imminent danger (that is of invasion) "as will not admit of delay."

The Military Bill before the Legislature contravenes this provision in these particulars. There is no actual invasion of the State, nor is there any immediate danger of invasion. Only a force exterior to the State can invade. There is no pretence that the "Military Bill" is framed to meet and repel invasion. The bill proposes to create a standing army, or in the sense of the language of the section in the U. S. Constitution quoted from, to "keep troops." It proposes an armed organization outside of the militia of the State, for the organization and use of which latter force the laws already make ample provision.

There is only one military resource reserved to the various States, under the Federal Constitution. That is the militia. This, for the safety of the State, comprises all able-bodied freeman up to a certain age, with certain exceptions. Neither the Federal or State Constitutions contemplate any military power originating with or put in action by a State other than this. Hence, under the Federal and State Constitutions, it is impossible for the State authority under a militia levy to use the military power of this force in hostility to any considerable portion of the citizens of the State. The improper use of the militia is still farther guarded against by the Constitutional provision found in section 1, article 8, Cont. State of Tennessee, wherein it is enacted that

"All militay officers shall be elected "by persons subject to military duty, "within the bounds of their several com- "panies, battalions, regiments, brigades, "and divisions."

Hence it will be perceived, for two reasons, that the present military bill is not within the militia reservation of any State:

1. Because it does not profess to amend the militia law of the State, those laws already providing fully for the use of this kind of force.

2. Because the Bill provides for selecting a special army out of the militia ranks, and provides for their organization and use by the Executive in direct contravention of the provisions of the State Constitution. Therefore it proposes the erection of a military power within the State expressly prohibited by Sec. 10, of Art. 1, of U. S. Constitution, Congress never having given its consent, and invasion being neither actual nor threatening.

We content ourselves to-day, with showing that this infamous bill is audaciously repugnant to the Federal Constitution. We may hereafter show more fully how it violates the Constitution of Tennessee. Our confidence is strong from our knowledge of PRESIDENT JOHNSON, that he will intervene with the entire power of Federal authority to protect the people of the State from this atrocity, if it is attempted to be executed. His assurances to that effect to Messrs. LOONEY and BIRCH may be relied upon.

BULLYING THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

From the New York Times.]

The measure which must be past before a dissolution is proclaimed are very few. The most important discussion still pending is that on Mr. Gladstone's Suspensory bill, for holding all appointments in connection with the Irish Church in abeyance. The third reading in the Commons is not likely to be offered, but the action of the Lords is still uncertain. The Times and other papers warn the Lords that if they throw out this bill, it will be at their own peril, and yet it is a part of the constitutional functions of the Upper House to reject any measure which it may believe to be prejudicial to the interests of the country. It is the first time in our history that the highest authorities in the Press think it needful to urge upon the Lords to adopt as a system, the principle of obeying the commands of a majority in the Commons.

There is nothing unlawful in the Lords throwing out a bill which comes to them from the Commons—in so acting they fulfil a part which is assigned to them by constitutional usage and precedent. But the revolutionary character of the times in which we live is imperceptibly guiding the tone of every one who assumes to speak on public topics. The Lords are not advised to their duty according to the best of their judgment, but to obey from fear of consequences the orders which are sent to them from the Commons. It is nothing more nor less than the course which was adopted toward the American Senate during the impeachment trial: Public moralists here thought it a very dreadful thing that Senator HENDERSON should be lectured and threatened by the Missouri delegation in the House, while they take exactly the same line with the members of the upper branch of their own Legislature. The middle class in England, led by their favorite journals, gave the world to understand last year, that they were no longer fit for Government. They now are clamoring at the House of Lords to beg and pray of the members to make the same confession of weakness. The Lords are asked to announce formally that threats will induce them to pass any bill, no matter how grave may be their objections to it. The concurrence of the great papers in this advice is surely a very significant sign of the changed times upon which we have entered. It is not as if the Lords were opposed to a measure the people had demanded. The voice of the people has yet to be heard on the question. A bill for making Mr. Gladstone Prime Minister has been carried in the Commons by a Liberal majority, but it has not received the sanction of public support. The House of Lords is at present merely threatened by a section of the Press which may be mistaken in supposing that public opinion is with it, and by politicians hungry for place and power. If this plan of intimidation prove successful, there will be no need for the extremists to call out, "down with the House of Lords." It will have quietly abolished itself.

It is quite certain that, as the House of Commons more and more represents the populace of England, it will become more and more impatient of the restraints upon its will and whims, imposed by the House of Lords, and will ultimately destroy that body, as it was destroyed by the Commons after the execution of Charles II. The more popular branch always encroaches on the aristocratic or exclusive one. The House of Representatives of the United States has already shown its teeth to the Senate, and indecently investigated charges of official corruption against Senators. If Radicalism maintains itself in power, the House will more and more monopolize the powers of Government; and the equality of representation of the States will be the first thing to disappear. Fortunately, it is New England that will, in that case, chiefly receive the venom of her iniquity, and cease to exercise a controlling influence in the national councils.

Radicalism is revolution and subversion of the Constitution. Unless the life is choked out of it by Democracy, it is not difficult to see where it will end.

Mr. Seymour Confident of His Own Election.

I can communicate to your readers the gratifying intelligence that on Wednesday last Gov. Seymour, in a conversation held at Utica with a member of the State Committee, expressed his entire confidence in the coming success of the Democratic ticket. The Governor feels assured that he is to be the next President of the United States—all the evidence in regard to the progress of the canvass throughout the whole country now pointing in that direction. He acknowledged that at first there were not visible these evidences of success. It took some weeks after the nominations had been made for some sections of the country to reconcile themselves to his (Seymour's) position on the finances, but now all is working admirably, and by the day almost the strenght of the ticket is increasing. In one word, Mr. Seymour is convinced that the Democracy will succeed. He does not attribute this to his own personal popularity, but to the almost universal desire for a change of party to administer the affairs of the Government. I am personally acquainted with the gentleman who had the above conversation with Gov. Seymour, and he informs me that he has known the Governor for the last thirty years, and always found him correct in his prophecies in regard to election matters, not only where they related to his (Seymour's) own chances in this State, but also to national elections.—N. Y. Cor. Charleston Courier.

NEW ORLEANS.

GRAND DEMOCRATIC TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.

20,000 UNIFORMED MEN IN LINE

100,000 People Witness the Spectacle.

MOST BRILLIANT AND IMPOSING DISPLAY.

From the Crescent, Times and Picayune of Saturday morning last we compile the following description of the most memorable political gathering that ever transpired in New Orleans:

Almost with the beginning of the day commenced the bustle of the preparation. Messengers hastened to and fro, bearing great bundles of lamps, paper lanters and fireworks. The offices of the several committees were thronged with anxious parties receiving last instructions, or hints to be followed by their respective organizations. To hire a horse of any description, even for an hour, was an utter impossibility. For days every animal in all the livery stables had been engaged. The environs were searched, plantations visited, and in some instances even carriage horses were engaged for the occasion, Mobile, the Watering Places, and even Memphis and Louisville had been appealed to for music, all responded, and with these additions our corps was considered inadequate for the host. By four o'clock nearly all the prominent business houses closed their doors, and an hour later persons residing in distant portions of the city commenced thronging to Canal street. In many families dinner was hurried through in the most hap hazard style, to enable the younger members to complete their preparations.

THE DAY AND THE CROWD.

The rain that had set in about the middle of the day cooled the atmosphere to a most refreshing temperature; but just as everybody had congratulated himself on the freedom from dust, it commenced to sprinkle, and continued until perhaps six o'clock. Notwithstanding this, by five o'clock car loads of ladies and children began to congregate on the neutral ground, and along the galleries of the Turo and other prominent buildings there was a general sweeping and brushing up for their reception. Anxious matrons, with as many as six or seven chattering little people tugging at their skirts, rushed hither and thither in the vast crowd. Each passing minute, from this hour, brought reinforcements. The sun had scarcely sunk behind the houses before the balconies commenced to throng, and long before nightfall both windows and verandahs from Old Levee to Rampart street was a sea of fluttering veils and ribbons. Every available inch from which a view could possibly be obtained was covered. So great was the gathering that many merchants erected temporary supports under the flooring to prevent balconies from giving way under the weight of the fair spectators. In the meantime the street and banquettes were filled to suffocation with the surging mass. The intersection of St. Charles street was almost impassable, and the corner of Carondelet was, if anything, more crowded.

THE ILLUMINATION.

As night closed a majority of the buildings blazed with many tinted lights. On both sides of Canal street, between Bourbon and Baronne, the illuminations were most tasteful and unique. The Maison Blanche presented five fiery columns, surmounted by three arches and dome, with the portraits of Seymour and Blair in the niches. Kuntz burst out in a gassy star and crescent, the gallery of Mr. Dumontiel shone with burning shields, stars and crescents Auge displayed the United States flag and tricolor, and between them a burning star; Bielock & Co. the illuminated portraits of the candidates. Toward Camp street, E. A. Tyler on one side, and Mr. Zimmermann on the other, were refulgent in their pyrotechny. Dr. Syme, on his gallery, showed a broad belt of light, and Messrs. Gueble & Nippert a forest of Chinese lanterns.

On the lower square, Ryback's and McKenna's were also prominent features. The spectacle was scarcely admired before the attention it attracted was divided with the Clubs, which now began to arrive. Pouring in from all directions and passing quickly and quietly to their positions, one was hardly viewed before half a dozen took its place. They commenced coming just at twilight but it was long after dark before all arrived.

PRELIMINARY TO THE START.

Were it not for the presence of the crowds, and the multitude of ladies and children, one could have fancied, from the heavy tramp and the accurate maneuvres, an immense army was massing under the shadow of the night. Both sides of Canal street, from the levee back to Basin, and all of the streets leading into it, as far up as Lafayette on one side and as far down as St. Louis on the other, were filled with the column, yet in all that tortuous line there did not glimmer a single lamp. A few minutes before seven a light glittered on the Clay Statute and almost instantly an illuminated arch burst on the view of the surrounding crowd. This and the golden fire of a bomb denoted the arrival of the Grand Marshal and his aids.

In a moment afterwards came the second explosion, and, as if by magic, the entire line, through all its twisted length, blazed with thousands of lights. So sudden was the transition from darkness to almost noonday splendor, that the crowd, taken completely by surprise, broke into an involuntary cheer, which rang from street to street.

Under these happy auspices the grandest procession ever assembled in the streets of New Orleans started on the route.

Ex-pection was on tiptoe. The glory of the illumination instead of satiating the desires of the assembled thousands seemed only to increase their interest in this monster rally. After some fifteen or twenty minutes necessary delay three more bombs announced that the march had commenced.

THE ROUTE OF THE PROCESSION

was one continued, unceasing, never-broken, glorious ovation to the great principles in whose honor the procession marched. It would have seemed likely that with nearly all the men of New Orleans in the ranks of some one of the many clubs which turned out, each of whom spent some money in the cause, that our people would have contented themselves with that one mode of demonstrating their faith and hope in Democratic doctrines. But no. Determined that every possible means should be used to make the affair of last night the grandest and most imposing one of the sort ever seen, and resolved despite that it necessitated the expenditure of that money which it had been so hard work for us of late to earn, to show by its free outlay how much we had at heart the glorious cause in which we are engaged. We had thought too that the display of last July would in some measure have prepared the citizens to forbear any expectation of a preparation for a similar demonstration, but the illuminations and decorations last night were as general, as costly and as handsome as if we had not already given full evidence of what New Orleans can do.

But not only in the balconies was the enthusiasm displayed. The streets were lined with spectators. This statement, be it understood, does not apply to the first few squares below Canal street or above it, but to the whole route of the procession, from end to end. Where the people came from was a mystery. It seemed to us that the whole population of New Orleans was on Canal street; but we turned into Royal street, and there was a crowd as great. We followed the procession to Elysian Fieldsstreet, and at every step the crowd became greater. From the old man of seventy to the infant at the breast, every age was there, and no station lacked its many representatives—and the cheers which we have already mentioned as given by the clubs and echoed by the ladies, were caught up by the crowd and sent back to the clubs with ten-fold heartiness. The air seemed filled with the names of Seymour and Blair. The side of every house, too, was adorned with them. Every transparency bore them, every tongue repeated them, they seemed to flash in every torch and wave in every handkerchief, and their ingenuity exhausted in devising adornments for them, until the people, in many instances, being able to think of no decoration which could add any lustre to them, contented themselves with the simple and grand inscription—Seymour and Blair.

Down Royal street the procession marched to Elysian Fields street, thence to the Levee and then back to Canal street via Chartres street. What we have already said will fully apply to this portion of the route. The same magnificent illumination decorated every house, the same crowd lined every street, and the same glorious enthusiasm animated every heart. We cannot do justice to it; we here acknowledge that for all the just idea we can give of what the appearance of the route was, we might as well at once throw aside our pen; it literally "beggard description." Our readers will then pardon us, if leaving the lower portion of the city we try—only though, again to fail—to tell how the First and Fourth Districts appeared.

Up Camp street, filled with spectators, brilliantly illuminated, marched the Democracy of New Orleans; and the people were ready for them. The same impulse which had actuated the Creoles urged the Americans to display their love of the cause. Many stores had their windows brilliantly illuminated and their fronts decorated with transparencies. From the office of the Morgan line of steamers, just above Gravier street, a rope had been extended to the house opposite, and from it hung flags and pennants innumerable. Many of the private residences were handsomely illuminated, and in their decorations a vast deal of taste was displayed, and the ladies were as numerous and enthusiastic as their Creole sisters. The galleries seemed but rows of flower beds, and the puzzled spectators in their contemplation, was bewildered in the attempt to decide upon the most beautiful one. The streets were as full and the enthusiasm as great as in the lower part of the city. Prytania street was a repetition, and Washington and Magazine streets told the same story. All along these streets the private dwellings were illuminated, and in many instances the designs were very beautiful. To particularize is simply impossible.

THE PROCESSION.

The leading division was composed of invited guests, delegations and clubs from various cities and States, and was commanded by Col. J. O. Nixon, the editor in chief of the New Orleans Crescent. This division, although not uniformed, except with badges on the left arm, made an imposing appearance, and was composed of a number of gentlemen well known in the city, and not identified with any club. Then followed the Jefferson Democratic Club, uniformed with white caps, and presenting a splendid array of sturdy yeomanry, who will do gallant service on election day.

Next in procession was the First Division, commanded by Col. J. O. Landry, composed of the First Ward Regular Democratic Club and all foot clubs of that ward.

The advance was led by the far-famed Crescent City Club, uniformed in white pants, black coats and white caps with red band.

Under their protection followed a small colored club.

The Second Ward Division, under Thomas Murray, Esq., was composed of the Second Ward Regular Democratic Club and all foot clubs in that ward. The leading club was dressed in Zouave costume, and were a body of men of whom any city might well feel proud. They were clad in white Zouave pants and red Zouave caps.

The succeeding club in line was the Jackson Railroad Club. They were uniformed in black pants, white shirts and caps, with blue trimmings.

These comprised the second division.

The third division was commanded by Col. Gerard Stith, of the Picayune office, and was composed of the Third Ward Democratic Club and all foot clubs in that ward. Of these, the "Tigers" led the advance, and were uniformed with black pants, white shirts, white caps and black trimmings.

Immediately succeeding the Tigers was a boat gaily decorated with wreaths and flowers and transparencies, containing four little girls, a gentleman and a little boy. It was a beautiful concert, and elicited marked applause, especially among the ladies. Behind this was the Second Ward Colored Club—a fine body of men who were proud of their position, and took no pains to conceal it.

The Johnson Rangers succeeded these, and were uniformed in black pants, white shirts and black hats. This club made a fine appearance, and deserve no little credit for the enthusiasm evinced in their organization.

The Old Hickory Club were next in line, in citizens' dress, and showed that, although they wore no insignia, they were animated still by the principles that made the hero's life illustrious and his name a talismanic word. In advance, they carried a full length portrait of the hero of New Orleans.

Their clubs composed the Third Division.

The Fourth Division, commanded by Colonel James Wingfield, was composed of the Fourth Ward Regular Democratic Club and the foot clubs located in that ward. This was led by the Magnolia Club, uniformed in black pants, white shirts and black caps. These were succeeded by the Constitution Glee Club and the Constitution Club, and the colored club under their protection.

Then came Chief E. A. Bozonier, with a fine staff, heading the fifth division, composed of the National Democratic Club, 300 strong; the German Club of the Second District, 150; the Blair Cadets; the Hancock Club, 150 (see elsewhere); the Hendricks Guards, 88; the Seymour Legion, 380; their Juniors, 80; the Broom Rangers, senior, 300; Junior, 90; the Innocents, 1133; the Pendleton Guards, 200.

The sixth division was led by Geo. W. White, Esq., with his aids—the Sixth Ward Rough and Ready Democratic Club at the head of the division, 150 strong, the Washington Club 150, and the Algiers Seymour and Blair Club were exceedingly numerous.

The seventh division, under chief E. Bermudez, was not less in number than any of its predecessors, The Wide Awakes alone were 520 strong.

John Grayer, Esq., was the chief of the Eighth, and had a very fine division. First was the Eighth Ward Club, 300; Hibernia, 250; Spirit of '68, 175; Rousseau Guards, in beautiful uniform, [illegible].

The ninth division had for chief, L. A. Wiltz, Esq. The regular club of that ward is 300 strong; then came the young Seymour Rangers, the Seymour Videttes, 150, and others.

The tenth division, under chief Thomas McKnight, comprised the Tenth Ward Club, in uniform, 400 strong; the Seymour Cadets, 150, and the Fourth District Germania, 250; all with beautiful white pennons with the names of States thereon.

There was a gent on horseback at this moment caracoling too near our corporal form to allow of our telling exactly where our friend, chief of division, Richard C. Bond's, command began, and whether we have not mixed some of his clubs up with the preceding division. The Fourth District Germania Club were there, for we saw them with snow white pennons, having on them the names of the different States; they number 250. The Chanticleer Club of the Fourth District was also there with a huge cock fourteen feet high. Then came the Soap Club, in eleven wagons, and numbering one hundred [illegible]. Of course Col. Dick was somewhere to be seen among the [illegible]. This was a very interesting feature of the procession, and they are a very fine looking set of men. The Eleventh Ward Democratic Club and the Blair Zouaves brought up the rear of the men on foot.

THE MOUNTED COLUMN.

Seymour Knights—Numbering nearly two hundred and fifty, wore black coats, white trowsers and white navy caps, the horses being provided with a white saddle-cloth trimmed with red. Their lamps were something very unique and pleasing. On an eight-foot pole was attached a glass globe, and immediately beneath a white pennant with S. K. in a monogram of red and blue letters. One of the features of their column was a wagon handsomely adorned with sugar cane, rice and evergreens, and lighted with Chinese lanterns.

Blair Knights—Under the command of Gen. Harry T. Hays, numbered one hundred and fifty mounted men, uniformed in blue sacks, white trowsers, white hats with black ribbons. Their lamps arranged to resemble lances, were provided with small pennants.

The Crescent Mounted Club—The Crescent Mounted Club appeared over two hundred. Their uniform of black coats, red kepi, with a crescent in front, shining like a star, was pronounced handsome by every one who saw it. Borne by many in the line, a series of crescent-shaped transparencies, gave to the Club the same appearance as a foot club.

The Draymen. Numbering over four hundred, and mounted on mules, although among the last, were by no means the least prominent feature of the display. Their only uniform consisted in a white sash; but a goodly array of banners showed in what light they are held by the latter portion of the community. In this organization the Democratic party place their main reliance, and if its conduct in November next is the same as has characterized it in the years gone by no one will be disappointed.

The Blair Guards.—This is a mounted club of the adjoining parish, added to the strength and appearance of the mounted men. They were clad in a neat style and well shaped by their officers.

The National Guard, of Jefferson—This mounted club of our sister parish, though of recent formation, turned out insufficient numbers to make our neighbors of Jefferson proud. Composed of the same material that the other clubs of young men contain, they afforded excellent evidence of the genteel training which is the result of the present political inspiration.

PROMINENT FEATURES.

Such an array of novelty was presented in the designs of the various clubs, that to describe even one-half of them is simply an impossibility. Among the many, we noticed in the wagon of the Minute Men of '68, the illuminated figures of 68, each of which was fully five feet long. Hoisted high above the admiring throng was an automaton carpet-bagger, satchel in hand, who at stated periods bowed his acknowledgements for the excitement his presence created. A happy thought was exhibited in the tableau of male and female occupation. In a large truck were a crowd of men representing all the useful trades—bakers, coopers, blacksmiths and carpenters were visible, apparently busy at their every-day avocations.

Immediately in rear, a wagon displayed the interior of a housewife's working room, with a quiet matron busy at her spinning-wheel, and her companions equally as deeply engrossed with other household duties.

The ship of State, a real craft, ship-rigging, which occupied a place among the Seymour Knights, was crowded with little girls.

Still another wagon represented Pandemonium. The apparently bottomless pit poured forth a sickly glare on the word Radicalism stretched over its mouth, and below a mimic flood of streaming lava seemed trickling into the street.

The mammoth cock, borne by four colored men at the head of the Chanticleer Club, was the object of much observation and remark. This colossal specimen stands fully ten feet high in his stocking feet. The immense transparency, shaped like the old-fashioned palmetto broom, borne by one of the Broom Rangers, also occasioned much amusement.

Many of the wagons accompanying the clubs were beautifully decorated. That of the Blair Knights was a marvel in its way, and the car of the Frank Blair Guards was also handsomely arranged. A club bearing transparencies shaped like carpet-bags, excited considerable ridicule.

A carriage which contained the portly person of our jovial and popular friend, Capt John Sinnott, proceeded a large, most respectable, neatly attired club, composed exclusively of colored men who are employed on our river steamboats. They were among the most enthusiastic and vociferous of the shouters for Seymour.

CONCLUDING REMARKS.

Thus ended the largest procession which has ever been in this city, and decidedly the largest ever in the South. It measured over fifty squares, or nearly four miles in length, in close order, and with an average of six abreast. It was the spontaneous outburst of a popular enthusiasm which may be considered as a true index to the political sentiments of the State. It shows that our people are alive to the necessity of presenting a united front to the mad invasion of Radicalism which has so ruthlessly swept over the State, trampling in its march every sentiment and cherished principle of her people. But the doom they have wrought for is at hand. They saw last night the foreshadowings of a day in which their power and rule would end. And to that consummation every honest heart devoutly cries, Amen!

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—The gas metre in the basement of the United States mint exploded this morning, blowing out the windows on the floor above. Two men were seriously injured. The fire was put out without serious damage to the building.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The Turner festival, embracing delegations from this vicinity, Boston, Albany, Troy, Buffalo, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Nashville, Richmond, Savannah, and a large number of other cities, is in full blast at Morrissiana. Gen. Siegel is to deliver an address.

Hon. Francis Granger, Fillmore's Postmaster-General, died on Friday at Canandaigua.

At the session of the Fenian Convention Sunday, President Savage delivered an address urging the members to vote for the Democrats or Republicans in the coming campaign who were favorable to the Fenian cause. He then insisted on resigning, and his resignation was accepted. Subsequently a union of the Savage wings was effected, and as they met as one body, a new constitution was adopted at last night's session. They remained in session until after one o'clock this morning.

FOREIGN.

PARIS, August 31.—Austrian papers, discussing the relations between the United States and Russia as indicated by the civilities between Farragut and the Russian Ministers at Constantinople, say that the representatives from other powers feel slighted.

LONDON, August 31.—The yacht Sappho has challenged the Olive, and the challenge accepted. Details are unknown.

An account of the recent events on Rio Parana have been received from Paraguayan sources. The Paraguayans claim that allies have received severe checks in two battles, on the 16th and 18th of July. The fortress was subsequently evacuated without the knowledge of the enemy, all the heavy guns were spiked and the arms and ammunition removed.

The Governors of Chili and Bolivia have offered their good offices to Lopez as mediators.

The Patrie, of Paris, has advices from Paraguay, which explains that Humaita was abandoned because Lopez had completed his new defensive line of fortifications on the Tibecunans.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—McCulloch has ordered changes in the New York customhouse, reducing expenses $9800 Other changes in contemplation will reduce the expenses of collecting customs $1,000,000.

S. F. Gare, member of Congress from Georgia, appeals for a September session of Congress.

Letters from Georgia state that the State Legislature will probably adjourn before deciding the eligibility of negroes, also that movements are on foot to heal dissensions in the Republican ranks.

Revenue to-day, $800,000. Debt statement will show an increase.

To Southern Radicals who appealed personally for arms for the Southern militia, the President said; "The Federal troops are in a better condition to preserve the peace than a militia drawn from one party to make war on another."

The President delays his visit to Tennessee till the question of the September session is settled.

The President's health is very good.

Gen. Stout, of Kentucky, Chief of the Patent Office, has resigned.

Grinnell, of Massachusetts will succeed him.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, August 31.—Moderate estimates place the number of persons in the Democratic procession Saturday night at 15,000, of whom 2500 were mounted. They continued in procession until after 12 p.m. The police records fail to show a single arrest more than usual, although over 100,000 people were on the streets at one time.

The Radicals contemplate making a demonstration on the 9th prox.

The Senate to-day ousted E. L. Jewell, Senator from the Second District, and installed in his place a mulatto boy, Pinchback. The ground of contest of this election was fraud. The witness upon whose testimony, mainly, the report of the Election Committee was based, has sworn to an affidavit which is published, declaring his evidence and testimony given before the Election Committee to be false and untrue from beginning to end; that he had been influenced and induced by certain prominent Radicals to testify as he did, by promise of high reward. An effort was made to bring this witness before the Senate while the report of the Committee was under consideration—the Radicals preferred to hear him. The proceedings were very discordant, the Radicals not harmonizing amongst themselves.

Jewell was not heard in his own defense. By his course since the opening of the Senate he has made many personal enemies and incurred the bitter hatred of the Radical Senators.

MARRIED.

WEBER—WERNER—On the evening of August 31st, by W. S. Walton, Esq., Mr. CHARLES WEBER to LENA WERNER, both of this city.

CITY MATTERS.

THANKS to Felix Cross, Esq., for late favors from the East and South.

GRAPES.—We are indebted to G. M. Journey, Esq., agent of E. F. Babcock, for a box of splendid grapes, grown at the St. Clair Nurseries, Summerfield, Illinois.

THE WEATHER yesterday took a change. About midday dark clouds arose all around the horizon, and rain soon fell in torrents, seeming to come from all quarters, and continuing all the afternoon.

FIRST BALE FROM PANOLA COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI.—Messrs. John McLennan & Co., yesterday received the first bale of cotton from Panola county, Miss. It was grown by E. W. Henderson, Esq., of Sardis, weighs 450 pounds, and classes middling.

RURAL.—Second street, around Court Square, presents at times a truly rural spectacle. Several enormous hogs perambulate the sidewalks ad lib. all the time, and yesterday a cow stood on the square side of the street and suckled her calf for some minutes.

DISSOLUTION.—By a card in another column, it will be seen that the law firm of Haynes, Stockton & Hart is dissolved, by mutual consent. The gentlemen composing the firm will continue to practice at the same location, Mr. Hart occupying the front room, and Haynes and Stockton the rear.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.—Ed Patten and Geo. F. Makin, charged with murderously assaulting a hackman on Sunday night, were yesterday brought before Esq. Kiernan, and after a patient hearing of the case were bound over in the sum of one thousand dollars each, to answer at the next term of the Criminal court.

BURGLARY.—Peter Justice, a gentleman from Africa, was snatched yesterday by officer Welch, who lodged him in the Hotel Beaumont, on a charge of having surreptitiously and burglarously entered the house of Mr. Stanley, on Court street, and feloniously taking therefrom sundry articles of value. He will be examined to-day.

DISMISSED.—D. A. Nunnalee, the prosecutor in the case of the State vs. T. H. Lyon, charged with receiving stolen goods, yesterday again failed to be present to make good his charges against Mr. Lyon, and accordingly the case was dismissed and Nunnalee taxed with the costs. Mr. Lyon was honorably discharged.

THE NEW ORLEANS TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION.—The attention of our readers is directed to the account, in another column, of the grandest political demonstration that ever took place on this continent. The enthusiasm of the occasion and the magnificence of the details are worthy the emulation of the Democracy of Memphis.

NEW CLUB HOUSE.—The new club house in the Cochrane Building, on Main street, was, we forgot to mention yesterday, opened with the usual honors, under Mr. Loeb's direction, on Saturday night last. The rooms are elegant and commodious, and are decidedly among the most attractive in the city. By the way, it is proper for us to say that the building itself is an ornament worthy of Mr. Cochrane and our city.

"CAPT. BARKER."—To the defence of this creature, whose very name is the synonym of dog, the evening Radical journal devotes a column, making him out a martyr to rebel outrages. The fact of the matter is, he is a thief and a fugitive from justice; and if the negroes of Marion, from whom he stole $1600 before he ran away, can catch him they will spoil his "loyal" hide. A certain colored man at the last accounts we had from there was after him with a double barrelled shot gun, about a domestic matter. We only hope they may catch him. Of such creatures and of none others, is the Radical party made.

MARKET FOR WEST TENNESSEE PRODUCE.—We are glad to learn from Mr. Jones, of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, that the farmers along that road are finding in Louisville, through facilities afforded in cheap transit by that great artery, a prompt paying market for their produce. Sweet potatoes are being much sought for by Western dealers, who are paying our people handsome prices for all they offer. During the season peaches were carried over the road for fifty cents per barrel, and sold in Louisville at an average rate of $3 60 per bushel, netting to B. L. Transou & Sons, of Humboldt, among others, fully $1000 per acre. This shows what our people can do for themselves by a diversified industry. We will have more to say about this to-morrow.

MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD.—We had the pleasure of meeting yesterday our friend J. C. Lopez, Esq., General Freight Agent of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, who has just returned from a trip to Chattanooga. He informs us that he has made arrangements by which freight time on that road and its connections, will be shortened twenty-four hours between Memphis and New York. By the 15th inst. it is hoped a still further reduction of a day will be made. The rates of freight on this line, with insurance added, are less than the reduced rates of the Eastern lines, and for carefulness and attention to duty, the employees of the road are not excelled by any.

PASCHALL HOUSE DRAWING.—Certificates in this grand drawing can be had in Memphis of Mr. E. S. Plummer, W. H. Passmore & Co., 260 Second street, and at Geo. Pattison & Co.'s bookstore, 317½ Main street. Circulars containing full particulars furnished on application to either of the above parties. jy28 3tawtf

ANOTHER ESCAPE.

A Notorious Criminal is Left in the Sheriff's Office, and Quietly Vamooses.

It has become quite a common thing of late, for criminals, in spite of locks and bars, Mr. Powers' new Jail, and the army of constables, bailiffs, guards and deputies, to suddenly turn up missing, just as the public were flattering themselves that they were hard and fast in limbo. A few days ago citizens drew a deep breath of relief on reading in our columns the account of the capture and incarceration of the negro murderer and burglar, Coale. The very next morning, we were compelled to announce that he had made his escape, and was again loose on the community, free to renew his thugging and murders. On Saturday we announced with a flourish that Henry Floyd, the chief of the "roombeats" and burglars of the city, had been arrested, and was safe "in the jug." Yesterday he too bade an affectionate adieu to bars and bolts, and again took "the freedom of the allies." The manner of his escape was peculiarly refreshing, and chagrined our worthy Sheriff not a little.

Floyd was brought before 'Squire Griffith yesterday for a preliminary examination. His attorneys were on hand and asked for a postponement of the case until this morning, and a change of the venue to Justice Kiernan's Court. Both requests were granted, and the prisoner was turned over to Sheriff Curry, to be escorted back to jail. The Sheriff carried him to his office, where he left him, surrounded by deputies, but without saying a word to them about his being a prisoner, altogether forgetting the necessity of such a thing. As soon as the Sheriff's back was turned Floyd, as might have been expected, quietly walked out of the office, down stairs, and presto! he was gone. The alarm was given immediately, but too late—the bird had flown; and, although sheriff, deputies, constables and all followed after him in hot pursuit, up to a late hour last evening he had not been apprehended.

P. S. Since writing the above we learn that detective Connel captured the fugitive about 10 o'clock p.m. His clothing was wringing wet, for which he gave as an excuse that he had swam across the river since dark. He was lodged in the Adams street station house, and will, no doubt, be on hand at 'Squire Kiernan's this morning.

NEW COTTON.

THE FIRST BALE OF TENNESSEE COTTON of the present crop was received yesterday, by Messrs. Foster, Kealhofer & Co. It was grown by Capt. J. R. Sackett, on President's Island, and is as beautiful as swan's down. Capt. Sackett's name heads the list from Shelby county.

GENERAL KIRBY SMITH'S MILITARY ACADEMY.—We received yesterday from the distinguished gentleman at the head of this institution a circular, announcing the opening of his school on the 15th inst., at Newcastle, Henry county, Ky. Of the qualifications of Gen. Smith, it is superfluous for us to speak—they are known and recognized throughout the length and breadth of the South. The prospectus gives the following information in regard to the institution, which will be read with interest by parents who have sons that they wish to place under the tutelage of this gallant soldier: "The standard of education will aim at thoroughness in every branch, to be determined by impartial and searching examinations. The discipline will be strictly military, requiring punctuality and promptness in the performance of every duty. The domestic department will be conducted with care and liberality, so as to secure the health, comfort and contentment of the scholars. Newcastle is located in the healthy blue-grass region of Henry county, equidistant (four miles) from the Louisville, Frankfort and Lexington, and the Louisville and Cincinnati Railroads, connected with each by a good macadamized pike, and about two hours' travel by rail from Louisville." The charges for everything except uniform, books and medical attendance for the entire session of forty weeks will be $375, payable in two equal instalments.

THE WAR IN AFRICA.—No. —— Court street, was blessed with a delightful little sensation a few days ago in the shape of a fisticuff rencontre between a couple of Rads of the rival factions. One, no less a person than Greely, the county Register, and the other Mr. Hazlett of Beaumont's office. They board in different families in the same tenement house and Hazlett overhead Greely telling to his landlady the story of how Beaumont had gouged Judge Scott. With the glad exuberance of a scalawag's imagination when he goes to describe anything that he is so familiar as stealing of any sort, he was dressing up the account in gorgeous coloring. Without waiting to be invited in, Hazlett seized a chair and went for him, and a lovely tussle ensued in which Greely drew the claret from his opponent's probosis quite freely, besides choking him till he was black in the face. No mortal damage was done, however, to either, a fact which their partisans variously deprecate.

THE HAND GATHERING OF FREEMASONS AT ST. LOUIS.—We are happy to learn that the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, with its usual liberality, has made arrangements, through Mr. Superintendent Jones, to furnish through tickets to all who desire to attend the great Masonic gathering on the 15th of September, inst., at $15 the round trip. As this will be the most interesting meeting of the Fraternity held in the United States, it is expected that thousands will attend from all parts of the country, without regard to Masonic connection. A true Western welcome awaits the brethren at St. Louis.

A NEW ECONOMY.—The Memphis and Charleston Railroad Company have established at Burnsville Station a rolling mill and furnaces, for rolling out and repairing defective rails. The machinery was put in motion last week, and, we understand, is a perfect success, being capable of rolling and repairing some three and a half miles of rails per diem. The operation is very simple, requiring but little machinery and few workmen, while the saving thus effected is enormous—the company having been accustomed, hitherto, to send their defective rails to Chattanooga to be rolled. We understand that this is another of the many excellent suggestions of Capt. W. J. Ross, General Superintendent of the road.

SELECT SCHOOL.—Mrs. Dr. Cobb will open a select school for girls and small boys on the 1st of September, at her residence, 204 Second street. Pupils in music also received. Terms moderate.
au26 2w

IT is not our wish to oppress any one with a suit for amounts due us for paving. We are willing to make any reasonable arrangements with those who wish to pay. All who desire to do so can make any reasonable and reliable arrangements for payment by calling at the office of the Company from 8 to 10 o'clock a.m., and thus avoid suit.

POST VS. BEAUMONT.

The Last Chapter by the Post.

CONFESSES HIMSELF A LIAR.

Simon Bolivar Beaumont alias Samuel B. Beaumont, charged the editors of this paper with stealing money from him. We demanded that he substantiate his calumny or stand branded before this community as a malicious and infamous liar. In a card in yesterday's Bulletin he confesses that there is not even color of evidence of the charge against us strong enough to secure even an indictment, and thereby he virtually confesses that he deserves to be branded with letters of fire upon his forehead as a malicious and infamous liar. Until he substantiates his charge, whatever his lying lips may utter will find its own refutation on his forehead.

That honest men who are not like him, outside the bars of a jail by the kindness of bondsmen, may judge whether the editor of the Post stole the money which was voluntarily placed in his hands in this city to establish the paper, we append the only written condition on which it was received:

"We, the undersigned, agree to pay to Gen. John Eaton, jr., the sums set opposite our respective names, for the purpose of establishing a standard loyal Republican paper in the city of Memphis, under the control and management of said Gen. Eaton; said sums to be apportioned in shares of twenty-five dollars ($25) each, and payable on or before the 1st day of January, 1866."

Among others the name of S. B. Beaumont was signed to this instrument for five hundred dollars. Whether his money was stolen or not, we leave for a candid public to determine.—Evening Post, August 31st, 1868.

THE COURTS.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The jury in the case of the State vs. J. H. and W. E. Carmichael, indictment for horse stealing, returned a verdict of guilty, and fixed the penalty at fifteen years in the penitentiary. No other jury trials will be taken up during the present term, the petit jury having been discharged. All parties out on bonds for their appearance at this term of the court must come up and renew the same to-day or forfeitures will be taken against them and a capias issue for their re-arrest. To-day motions for new trials and in arrest of judgment will be heard and determined.

The present term commenced on the first of April last and has been in session, without intermission, since that time. The docket was called through, and every case disposed of by either trial or continuance.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—The trial of the case of The State vs. P. S. Simons, indictment for gaming, closed last evening. A verdict was returned by the jury of guilty and fixing the fine at five dollars.

To-day the September term (law side) of this court commences. The new cases on the trial docket being the cases for the month of August and September, will be called informally.

In all appeal cases on the docket, where the names of the attorneys for the plaintiff and defendant do not appear upon the docket, a dismissal will be entered.

All parties who have failed to renew their bonds to the next October (criminal) term, must come up and renew the same to-day or forfeitures will be taken against them and a capias issue for their re-arrest.

THE COMMITTEE appointed to wait on the citizens to solicit contributions to defray the expenses of the Club, and incidental to the campaign, will be around during the week, and we urge upon our merchants the necessity of responding liberally. The following are the gentlemen constituting the Committee: Messrs. Thomas O. Smith, T. F. Mallon, James M. Schooles, T. A. Nelson, W. C. McClure, Capt. J. W. Sneed, Col. W. F. Taylor and D. A. Sheppard, Esq.

CHROMOS.—Messrs. Church & Co., No. 315 Main street, have received and have on exhibition and for sale, a lot of most exquisite chromolithic copies of the gems of art. They are from the celebrated atelier of Prang, of Boston, and are finished in the highest style of art, imitating the original with wonderful fidelity. We hope our friends will avail themselves of the opportunity of procuring gems at moderate prices.

PARTEE & HARBERT.—The attention of our readers in the country is particularly directed to the card of this firm, cotton, tobacco and commission merchants, at 290 Front street, an old and reliable house, composed of gentlemen of extended experience in commercial affairs. We have pleasure in commending it to the patronage of our friends. They will fulfill any promise they make to customers.

LADIES and gentlemen who desire to attend the Grand Ball, of the Relief Association of the 154th Tennessee Regiment, will have choice of conveyance as follows; A train will leave the M. and O. R. R. Depot at 7 o'clock and return at a seasonable hour. Omnibuses will leave Court Square (west gate) at 5½ o'clock p.m., and connect with train at Wells' Station. sep1 3t

LAWYERS AND DUMB AGUES.—Juvenile limbs of the law are sometimes afflicted with Dumb Ague. The profession is fond of tonics; does not object to a little syrup in it and therefore all classes of the legal fraternity discover the attractive virtues and qualities of the Texas Tonic Syrup. The Liver and Spleen, organs which the disciples of Lord Coke watch with care, are perfectly controlled by the Texas Tonic Syrup. For sale by all druggists.

GROCERIES.—Messrs. Toof, Philips & Co., corner of Front and Court streets, announce that they have on hand and for sale a large and excellently assorted stock of staple and fancy groceries, family stores, wines, liquors, relishes, etc., etc. Cotton bought and sold, and cash advances made by them on the most liberal terms.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—We are indebted to J. F. McMurry, Esq., for a copy of the list of premiums and rules and regulations of the Agricultural Fair to be held at Paris, Lamar county, Texas, on the 26th of October.

OUR CLASSIFICATION.—The particular attention of business men is directed to the careful classification of advertisements in this issue. There is not a single advertisement in the paper that has not been placed under its appropriate heading. This feature will hereafter be a conspicuous one among many we intend to introduce.

RETURNING LIFE.—Fresh paint, refitting, cleaning and repairing, are everywhere the order of the day. Our merchants all over the city are making ready for a lively and busy autumn.

SOUTHERN WAGON FACTORY.—Messrs. James & Roosa, No. 92 Jefferson street, Memphis, are now manufacturing all kinds of farm and spring wagons, and their various paraphernalia, such as hubs, springs, bar-iron, etc., etc. Our farming friends, in need of such things, should not fail to patronize home industry, and give Messrs. James & Roosa a call.

"MOONSTONE," by Wilkie Collins, a new supply at Cowperthwait, Chapman & Co's, 279½ Main street.

THE GRAND PROCESSION.

Meeting of the Committee of Arrangements.

Appointment of Sub-Committees

At a meeting of the Committee of Arrangements of the Young Men's Independent Democratic Club, held last evening in the Stillman Hall, the following business was transacted. The Committee of Arrangements was divided into the following sub-committees:

Finance—D. C. Lowenstein, C. B. Gallaway, Wm. Stix.

Music—Raphael Semmes, jr., J. A. J. Smith, M. Pepper.

Printing—J. J. DuBose, T. H. Arnold, E. L. Hamlin.

Vehicles—B. B. Waddell, C. S. Loop, Sam Weaver, A. R. Humes, P. G. Bigley.

Transparencies—W. C. Folkes, C. W. Gulick, R. M. Drake.

Place of Meeting—C. B. Gallaway, D. C. Lowenstine, P. G. Bigley, Sam Weaver.

Reception—J. G. Lonsdale, jr., T. B. Edgington, W. E. Yeatman.

Invitation—Van Anderson, C. C. Ward, H. T. Elliott, jr.

Procession—S. S. Anderson, J. F. Thomas, Alex. Allison.

Mechanical and Agricultural Designs—W. J. Littlejohn, Jacob Seessel, and J. P. Gallagher.

A motion was made and carried that Capt. Geo. Mellersh be added to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Capt. Mellersh, the Bluff was selected as the place of meeting.

Gen. Forrest giving notice that he would be unavoidably absent, Capt. Mellersh was chosen as Grand Marshal, in his place.

The Committee then adjourned to meet at the same time and place on Thursday evening, 3d inst.

THE SOUTHERN HOTEL is the favorite stopping place for the planters of Mississippi, Arkansas and West Tennessee, the charges being reduced from $3 to $2 per day. The eating department is first rate, and the sleeping rooms and beds the best in the city. Free passes to and from Railroad Depots to planters, in City Railroad cars. The proprietors being old citizens, know how to please their country friends. Capt. J. E. Woolfolk, of Senatobia, will be pleased to see his many friends. 50 gentlemen day boarders at $6 per week. Gentlemen may have rooms without board at $4 to $6 per week. Rates reduced from $3 to $2 per day. Steamboat and Railroad officers' patronage solicited. 1w

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

CAIRO, August 31.—The river is stationary. The following boats passed today: Down—Mohawk, 11 p.m.; Luminary, 1 a.m.; Bismarck, 7 p.m. Up—Alton and Hale, 5 a.m.

MEMPHIS, August 31.—Weather cloudy and extremely sultry. Between two and three o'clock yesterday we had a very heavy rain, which lasted about half an hour, and continued at intervals for several hours thereafter. The river continues to recede, with seven feet six inches in the channel between here and Cairo. At St. Louis the river is still declining, with six feet out to Cairo. The Ohio is falling, with three feet four inches in the canal and four feet on the bars in the lower Ohio. The Arkansas is receding, with three feet scant in the channel. White river remains at a good stage.

MISCELLANEOUS.

There was a fair amount of business doing on the wharf yesterday.

NEW FIRM.—The old and well known firm of Levy & Miller, Steamboat Agents, have dissolved partnership. Capt. E. A. Levy, of the old firm, has associated himself in the steamboat agency and general commission business at No. 240 Front street, with Mr. James B. Sharp, recently of Augusta, Arkansas. Captain Levy is so well known in this community that commendation from us is entirely unnecessary. He has for many years been connected with steamboats as captain and agent, and is thoroughly conversant with the business. Mr. Sharp comes to our city with recommendations of the very highest character, and we have no doubt will make hosts of friends in this his new home.

Mr. Sam Miller, of the late firm of Levy & Miller, has associated with him in business Capt. Wm. Elliott, of the firm of Elliott & Co. They will continue the steamboat agency at the old stand, No. 5 Jefferson street, and will beyond question do well.

Captain Joe Elliott arrived in the city on Sunday, and has assumed the duties of chief clerk of the fine steamer Des Arc.

The Mollie Hambleton, Captain Bowman, leaves to-day at five p. m., for St. Francis river and all way points. Messrs. Paine, Clark and Shell are her clerks.

The steamer Mary E. Forsyth, Capt. Zeigler, is the regular St. Louis packet, leaving to-day at 5 p. m., for Cairo and St. Louis.

The Luminary, Capt. James Luker, will be at the wharf and leave at 9 a.m. for Vicksburg and the bends. Capt. Lee Finney is clerk.

The Commercial, Capt. Edson, leaves to-day for White river at six p.m.

The Belle Memphis arrived yesterday morning from St. Louis with a fair trip, and returned last night. Her officers report only seven feet water in the channel at Island 34, which is the worst place between here and Cairo.

The Bismarck is due from St. Louis.

The America, Maggie Hayes, Champion and Celeste are due from the Ohio river. At last accounts they were fighting Portland bar.

The supurb steamer Des Arc leaves to-day at 5 p. m. for White river.

Auctioneers & Real Estate Brokers

HAVE REMOVED TO

S. E. Corner Main and Jefferson Streets.

IN announcing our new location, as above, we beg leave to return sincere thanks for past patronage, and hope to have the pleasure of meeting all our old friends, and many new, in the central and prominent position to which we have removed. The

Real Estate Agency

In all branches, will, as heretofore, be a leading feature of our business, and, by long experience and general acquaintance with the owners of Real Estate, both in and out of the city, we hope to make our office a general resort for the exchange of title in city or country property.

Our Rental Department

Continues under the efficient management of H. L. GUION, Esq., who will attend promptly to Collecting Rent, Paying Taxes, etc.

Public Sales of Merchandise

Will also be a specialty of our business in which the central and conspicuous situation of our Salesroom offers superior advantages to consignees, to whom we will make the most liberal advances and terms on goods to be sold by auction.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE FAVORABLE prospects of a bountiful season, by which there must necessarily insure

A LARGE TRADE

We have concluded arrangements through which we propose to offer inducements for all

BUYERS TO PURCHASE HERE

1st—All Imported Goods we will Import Direct, or buy from the Importer's Agents.

All Domestic Goods we will buy direct from the Manufacturers.

Shoes we will have made to order; in fact, we will procure all our Goods FROM FIRST HANDS, thereby saving the Jobber's profits.

2d—Through our large capital we are enabled to BUY FOR CASH, thereby can buy closer than those buying on credit.

3d—We shall continue to SELL ONLY FOR CASH, which enables us to sell at a closer profit than those selling on Time,

4th—We will continually have our buyers in the East watching the market and attending the Trade Auction Sales, buying Bargains, which we will again Sell as Bargains.

Through these advantages, it must be apparent to all that we will be able to COMPETE WITH ANY MARKET ON THIS CONTINENT.

☞ People should not listen to the base fabrications of Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis drummers, that Memphis cannot compete with their markets.

MEMPHIS CAN NOW,

AND WILL,

COMPETE WITH ALL MARKETS

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR

CLOAK MANUFACTORY

JOHN D. ELLIOTT, Master; CAD. J. HANKS and MAT GLASS, Clerks.

THE steamer DES ARC having been put in thorough repair, will enter the MEMPHIS AND WHITE RIVER TRADE permanently on THURSDAY, the 3d day of September, 1868, leaving Memphis every Thursday for all points on White and Little Red rivers, connecting at Devall's Bluff with trains for Little Rock. Leaves Devall's Bluff for Memphis every Monday on arrival of train.

NOTICE.—To the Merchants of Memphis—The steamer DES ARC will resume her trips in the White River Trade on Thursday, the 3d day of September, 1868, and as I am satisfied that it is the wish of both the planter and merchant that the local packets receive and transport merchandise on which there is C. O. D. charges, and in view of the fact that the refusal to transport such freight has operated very much against the trade of Memphis, the steamer DES ARC (a home packet, owned and controlled in Memphis) will, on resuming her trips, receive all C. O. D. freight, and collect free of charge.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, September 1, 1868.

In the general market the week opens with an increase of orders for supplies and better receipts of cotton, while the weather has continued favorable for the growing crops. Picking is active in Mississippi, and has commenced in West Tennessee.

Of the 33 bales cotton received to-day, 12 bales were of the new crop.

The crop prospects are generally favorable and a month of hot, dry weather will leave no cause for complaint so far as this vicinity is concerned, notwithstanding the appearance of the cotton worm in a great many localities.

The money market is inactive and easy, with little doing in Exchange, and the supply moderately in excess of the demand. Bankers checking rates are ⅛@¼ premium on leading commercial points, the outside rate favoring New York. Bills on New Orleans pass at the banks at 1-5@¼ discount, and on New York at par to ⅛ premium.

The coin market presented no changes of interest. Gold opened at 145, was ⅛ lower at noon, and closed at 145⅛. Receipts were meagre and in small sums, which passed at 143. One lot sold at 144. Dealers still buy for export, as there is no local demand.

City Scrip was in fair demand for tax-payers' purposes, and dealers made quick sales at 76c, buying all offered at 73@75c.

County Scrip was steady at 53@54 buying, and 55@56 selling.

For Police Scrip there is a brisk demand, on account of renewing licenses, and dealers are eager buyers at 75c; selling at 80c. One or two street transactions at 75c are reported.

The market for stocks and bonds was devoid of interest; no offerings and no demand. Holders are not pressed to sell, and those who would buy are without the means. We quote as follows:

Memphis bonds, 50@51c; Memphis & Charleston Railroad stock, 53½@54c; Mississippi & Tennessee bonds, 60c for 1st, and 33c for 2d mortgage; do stock, 10c; Mississippi Central Railroad bonds, 60c for 1st, and 40c for 2d mortgage.

Receipts of cotton to-day were 33 bales, of which 12 bales were of the new crop. Sales of new were two bales Strict Middling at 30c, 2 bales Middling at 28c, 1 bale Strict Low Middling at 28c, and 1 bale Good Ordinary at 25c; of old, 1 bale Good Ordinary at 24c, 1 bale Low Middling at 29c, and 2 bales Middling at 27½c. Our statement exhibits receipts of cotton for the commercial year.

The Liverpool market was steady to-day. Sales 12,000 bales at 11d for Uplands, and 11¼d for Orleans.

Receipts of the new crop at New Orleans, 483 bales.

The following regulations of the Houston (Texas) Board of Cotton Factors were adopted at a meeting held in Houston on the 20th of August last:

1. That an association to be called "The Houston Board of Cotton Factors," is hereby created, and the following regulations established for its guidance:

2. Resolved, That all cotton shall be weighed and sampled by Public Weighers, who shall be duly sworn in accordance with the provisions of the laws of Texas in such case provided; and that their certificate of weight shall be the basis of the transaction.

3. Resolved, That the commissions on consignments of cotton for sale in this market shall be 2½ per cent.

4. Resolved, That the brokerage for selling cotton in this market, whether for the factor or producer, shall be established at 50 cents a bale.

5. Resolved, That the warehouse charges on each bale of cotton for weighing, sampling and storage, shall be 50 cents.

6. Resolved, That nothing contained in these resolutions shall be in any way constrained to interfere with the established right and privilege of the producer or owner disposing of his cotton himself, except that the same shall be weighed and sampled as previously set forth.

A. WHITTAKER, Secretary.
H. D. TAYLOR, President.
A. J. BURKE, Vice President.

The San Antonio (Texas) Herald of the 22d inst. says:

The continued hot and dry weather is exceedingly favorable to the maturing cotton crop; from which we hear most encouraging accounts. Though considerable damage has been done by the worm in Dewitt, Gonzales and some other counties, the prospect is that Western Texas will make double the amount of cotton she made last year. Agriculturally the prospect is certainly unusually promising.

The New Orleans Crescent of Saturday says: Receipts of the leading staple continue comparatively light, and as the offering supply is still of too restricted a character to attract heavy or general buyers, operations from day to day disclose but little increase. Prices also continue unsettled under advices from Liverpool and New York, and the market has exhibited a net decline of ½c per pound since the close of our last weekly review, Friday evening, the 21st inst.

The Brownsville (Texas) Courier says cotton has to be planted on the Rio Grande only once in three years, and can be picked every month in the year. Cotton grown on the Rio Grande last year was sold at Monterey and Saltillo at 6¼c a pound, specie, without having been ginned. The fiber is of good quality, long and strong, said to be fully equal, if not superior to the best Louisiana and Mississippi cotton. The average yield is a bale to the acre. Mexican labor is easily procured for the cultivation of cotton.

The New Orleans Picayune of Saturday has the following:

LINOCK, RED RIVER,
Bossier Parish, La., Aug. 22, 1868.

The veritable cotton caterpillar has appeared simultaneously on all the plantations in this vicinity. So far they have done no great damage to the crops. On two or three plantations they have destroyed the blooms on the upper portions of the stalk, after riddling the leaves in detached patches about the fields. They are not, as yet, in sufficient numbers to do much damage, and the season is so far advanced that it is to be hoped the crop will not sustain a loss of more than one-third.

The corn and potatoe crop are fine, and most of the planters have succeeded in saving their fodder, though there were frequent showers during the period of gathering. P. A. M.

We are sorry to learn from several of our planters that the army worm, as well as the boll worm, are injuring the cotton crop very much. We were told by one gentleman, who plants South West of this, that on a piece of creek bottom land on his plantation, but few leaves were left on the stalks—the army worm having nearly entirely destroyed them. We hear much complaint from different portions of the country. The corn crop is doing tolerable well, much better than was anticipated.—Greensboro (Ala.) Beacon.

EDUCATIONAL.

STATE FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE Fall Session of this Institution will commence on MONDAY, the 14th of September next, with a full and superior Faculty (as usual) in all the departments. In addition to the branches usually taught, arrangements have been made for a full course of lessons in PHYSICAL CULTURE according to the system of Dio Lewis. This places the State Female College, in this respect, in advance of any other school at the South, and parents, both at home and abroad, will soon come to see its beneficial effects.

The City Railroad Cars now run out to the College, and render city patronage perfectly practicable. Parents and guardians in the city will find on inquiry that they can enjoy the benefits of this superior school and make a saving—even when car-fare is added—of 25 to 33 per cent. on tuition bills. For particulars or catalogues address, C. COLLINS,

COTTON GINS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Ginwright. G. W. TRUHEART,

BUCKEYE SALVE

—FOR THE—

CURE OF EVERY FORM

—OF—

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.

A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, not from hearsay, and whose certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.

The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.

A Liberal Discount to Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

This Salve will keep in any climate for years

Chancery Sale

—OF THE—

OVERTON HOTEL.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Chancery Court of Memphis, entered on the 28th day of February, 1868, for the sum of $58,768 26¾, against J. M. Keating, B. B. Waddell and Coleman Boyd, we, the undersigned, Trustees and Commissioners of the said Court, will,

On the 10th Day of October Next,

Between the hours of 10 o'clock and 4, in front of the said Hotel, proceed to sell, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six and twelve months, the said Memphis Overton Hotel and the land on which the same stands, being the following lots, on the plan of the city of Memphis, to-wit: 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, situate on the northwest corner of Main and Poplar streets in the city of Memphis, and embracing the block bounded by said Poplar and Main streets and Center alley, and an alley bounding said property on the north.

Redemption waived by the decree. The successful bidder will be required to execute notes for the purchase money with the most undoubted security before the sale is closed, and on failure, the sale will be continued, reopening on the last preceding bid.

The title is perfect, as we are advised, but we do not personally warrant the same.
